Dear supporters, colleagues and friends,

we are pleased to cordially invite you to the 17th International Climate and Energy Conference (IKEK-17), which will take place on 26 and 27 June 2026 at the premises of HALLE MESSE GmbH in Halle (Saale), Germany.

Once again, the conference will bring together distinguished international experts. Confirmed speakers include, among others:

- John Clauser, University of California, Berkeley (Nobel Laureate in Physics, 2022)
- Henrik Svensmark, Technical University of Denmark
- Michael Limburg, EIKE
- Stefan Kröpelin, University of Cologne
- Nicola Scafetta, University of Naples Federico II
- Ronan Connolly, CERES Science
- Willie Soon, Harvard University

- William Happer, Princeton University

The entire event will be simultaneously interpreted in German and English.

Participation fees:

- 2-day ticket (Fri/Sat, incl. dinner): €200
- 1-day ticket (Fri, incl. dinner): €150
- 1-day ticket (Sat): €100
- Reduced 2-day ticket (with valid proof): €100

Tickets can be purchased via the following link: TixTown \(Link\)

Venue and directions:

Halle Messe
Messestr. 10
06116 Halle (Saale)
Germany

The venue, Halle Messe, is well signposted and easily accessible via the A14 motorway (exit "Halle-Ost"). By rail, it can be reached via the ICE-Train hub "Halle (Saale) Hauptbahnhof" with direct public transport connections, including the S-Bahn stop "Halle Messe". By air, the nearest airport is Leipzig/Halle (LEJ). Ample parking is available on site.

Please support our work!

Organising an international conference of this scale requires substantial organisational and financial resources. As an independent and privately funded institution, the European Climate and Energy Institute (EIKE) relies on the support of sponsors, friends, and engaged citizens.

If you would like to support our work and promote open scientific exchange, we would greatly appreciate your donation. Every contribution—large or small—helps us continue to organize high-quality events and conduct research. Thank you very much.

Donations can be made via bank transfer to:

Beneficiary: Europäisches Institut für Klima & Energie
IBAN: DE34 8309 4454 0042 4292 01
BIC: GENODEF1RUJ
Bank: Volksbank Gera Jena Rudolstadt

or via PayPal (Link)

We also kindly encourage you to share this invitation within your network in order to reach additional interested parties and potential supporters.

We would be delighted to welcome you in person in Halle (Saale) and to share two inspiring days of conference discussions with you!
